

While we already knew that Fandral and the rest of the Warriors Three would be back for THOR 2, Josh Dallas has commented on returning to Asgard as well as his excitement to work with director Patty Jenkins in a recent interview with IGN Movies. Here are a few excerpts from the Q&A, but you can read it in full by clicking on the link below. On Whether Or Not He'll Be Back As Fandral For THOR 2: We are! We are planning a return to Asgard, next year. Thor 2 is happening. A great director called Patty Jenkins is directing the sequel. Ken [Branagh] is not directing, which is obviously a huge shame, because he came in and created that world and created the language and the look of the whole thing. But he's kind of set it all up for us and I think he's staying on as a producer.

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=47528&t=Josh_Dallas_Fandral_Talks_iTHOR_2i_And_Patty_Jenkins_As_Director