

Speaking at the SXSW annual film and music festival currently underway, via Leaky News, writer-director Joss Whedon discussed Marvel's The Avengers in-depth. Commenting lengthily on his reaction being approached for the film, the production's overall experience, and jocularly teasing the secondary villains, take a gander below! "It unfolded slowly for me but I think that might use be because I'm slow. ... I've been circling around with Marvel for a long time. It felt to me like it was a favor which I sometimes do; I read the script, give my opinion. I said well, this doesn't work, but if I was going to do an Avenger's movie, here's what I'd do. Then gradually we started meeting again and I was like, is this a job interview? What's happening here? Because I suddenly started thinking the more I was thinking about it the more I wanted to do it, and

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/MarvelFreshman/news/?a=56125>