

Speaking to Jason Serafino (@serafinoj1) of Complex Magazine, Winnick had the following thoughts to share: On DC's "New 52" initiative- Judd Winick: If you've ever read comics, or had an interest in comics, then this would be the time to pick up DC comics. I think a good example is that I was on an airplane about six months ago and I was sitting next to a dude that was kind of looking over my shoulder as I was writing. He said, "I see you're writing and the word 'Batman' keeps coming up. Do you work on the movies?" Then I told him, "No, I actually work on the comics," which had him way more excited. He said that he grew up reading comics, and I had a couple of years on him, but not too many, so we grew up reading roughly the same stuff. He was in his mid/late 30's and he
