

Though the Metahuman files on the ARGUS website still don't seem to be accessible, someone was obviously able to get a peek at what's inside, as the new pic of Jason Momoa's Aquaman below has found its way online (via a Justice League fan account). Momoa seems to be wearing the same gear as he was in that shot of The King of Atlantis smashing the whiskey bottle in the Justice League SDCC trailer, so it's a safe bet this image comes from that scene. Keep an eye out for more new content over the next few days. Justice League is set to hit theaters on November 17, 2017.
