

The CW has released another sneak peek from the second season 2 episode of Supergirl, which introduces Ian Gomez as Lucas "Snapper" Carr. This character actually started out as the teenage "mascot" of the Justice League of America back in the '50s, but he's been re-imagined here as the editor-in-chief of CatCo Magazine, and Kara's new boss. Tyler Hoechlin's Clark Kent also features in the clip, as he accompanies his cousin to the office, making Cat Grant's day a lot brighter in the process. CADMUS attacks National City with a kryptonite powered villain who ends up seriously hurting Supergirl (Melissa Benoist). Superman (guest star Tyler Hoechlin) blames Hank (David Harewood) because the kryptonite was stolen from the DEO. Meanwhile, Kara's first day at her new job doesn't go as planned after she meets her new boss, Snapper Carr (guest star Ian Gomez). Glen Winter directed the episode written by Robert Rovner & Caitlin Parrish.
