

I know I am not the only one when I say that I really would have wanted someone OTHER THAN Michael Bay to reboot one of my most favorite franchises. I grew up with TMNT and so did millions of others out there who looked up to one or all of the turtles during childhood. The only thing I really have to say, is that Bay and Liebesman better not underwhelm us with their project. They better do the turtles some justice. So with that said, so far, TMNT co-creator Kevin Eastman seems to really approve of the film, so there is still that possibility that it could be something worth watching. In the video below, he once again praises the film, stating that he feels it is the best film in the series yet among other things. Some of Eastman's words from the interview.
