

In the latest issue of Empire Magazine, the head honcho of Marvel Studios, Kevin Feige briefly discussed the Joss Whedon-directed highly-anticipated film The Avengers. The transcription courtesy of SuperSAINT, dotting on the first set image depicting of cast chairs, the "surreal" first day of filming, as well vaguely on what the superhero ensemble will explore, check out what Feige had to say. "We wanted to do a tease of an image - Let people know that the movie has started filming, and it's real. We thought it would be fun to have the cast chairs -- that's the big selling point of the movie, that these people are together on the set" (apparently chairs for Hawkeye, Fury + Widow are there, but "just out of frame") "I did get to New Mexico on the 1st day of shooting. Right off the bat, it involved a couple of characters who'd been in other movies

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/MarvelFreshman/news/?a=37828&:t=Kevin_Feige_Weighs_In_On_iThe_Avengersi_First_Set_Image_First_Day_of_Filming_More