

Marcus Noble is working on Kick-Ass 2 and he has tweeted images of his costume, and given descriptions about the scene that he his apart of. He tweets, "Haha yeah it's a good experience. Tiring fighting all day, but what they're creating is just epic. I go by the name of Mustard Man. I'm just in the huge fight scene bro." If the costume down below looks familiar, it should, we saw this costume when the movie was filming in Toronto last month. This character and another costume character were being arrested by a cop at a set meant to look like Times Square.
