

Check out the first image of Lindy Booth (Dawn of the Dead) as Night Bitch. It's a behind-the-scenes photo featuring the convenience store that Christopher Mintz-Plasse was seen filming scenes with a handgun, presumably robbing the store. Even though she is in costume and there in the set, there is no reason to believe she actually was apart of this scene.

In Mark Millar and John Romita Jr.'s comic book Night Bitch is a member of the superhero team, Justice Forever. She was inspired to become a hero by Kick-Ass's heroics, and joins the group to avenge the murder of her sister. Booth has dipped her toes in television with NBC's The Philanthropist and ABC's October Road, but it's her featured roles that most people will recognize her from. She was in such movies as Dawn of the Dead, Wrong Turn and Jeff Wadlow's Cry Wolf. Image Courtesy of chlomo Click Image
