

Greetings Loyal Krang Supporters! Well, it's been two and a half weeks now since Americans got a true choice given to them in the upcoming election, and things are moving along well here at Krang's mobile campaign headquarters. First of all, the Technodrome is mobile again thanks to a generous donation from Krang's friends at OPEC. This, of course, brings us to the news this week that the Technodrome drove over a petting zoo. Yes, it was the Technodrome that ran over all those goats and chickens and baby seals, but, as it was stated earlier, Krang was not driving the Technodrome at the time, so the media should stop trying to blame Krang for the incident. Krang has already fired the driver, Baxter Stockman, and jettisoned him into Dimension X. Krang would also like to address his standing in the polls, Many Krang supporters are becoming discouraged

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/bvanhooker/news/?a=67939>