

Krang 2012 by Brian VanHooker Turtle with Lemonade Productions

www.turtlewithlemonade.com Hello Loyal Krang Supporters! Well, it's official, Krang has announced his candidacy for the President of the United States of America. After decades of trying to enslave the human race by force, he will now try diplomacy. Krang is entering the race a bit later than his opponents, so we're going to need the help of all the volunteers we can get to raise awareness and support for the only candidate running who can both defeat Obama and grow into a giant monster and terrorize New York! For those of you looking to help Krang get elected, we here at campaign headquarters in Dimension X have narrowed down his message into ten simple points so that you can easily inform your friends, family and neighbors about where Krang stands on the most pressing issues of our time. 1. Taxes: Krang supports lowering taxes
