

Monsters and Critics is reporting that actor Massi Furlan has joined the cast of Christopher Nolan's third and rumored final Batman film, The Dark Knight Rises and has already shot several scenes on the film. Here's what the site reports: Furlan, who has yet to announce his role in the film and has to keep details of his part quiet for now, has stated filming with Nolan and company was an extraordinary experience. Hmm. Secret role? Nah, I'm not going to speculate here, he's probably just a member of the League of Assassins. But with Nolan, we can never be quite sure can we? The Dark Knight Rises is an upcoming American superhero film under the development of Christopher Nolan, David S. Goyer, and Jonathan Nolan. Based on the DC Comics character Batman, the film will be the third and final installment in Nolan's Batman film series. The Dark Knight Rises will see the

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/GraphicCity/news/?a=47437&t=Late_Casting_Update_For_emThe_Dark_Knight_Risesem