

The first promotional image from NBC's live-action Wonder Woman TV series offered the first look at actress Adrienne Palicki, suited up as the Amazon Princess. And with that first look being despised, the latest batch of set images unveil a few alterations to the costume. Via AceShowBiz, the images depict of an action sequence involving the crime-fighter running through busy streets, [stunt-double] jumping on car hoods in pursuit of two "bad guys" in white, one of which is actor/stuntman Joseph Gatt, also spotted. Anyhow,, check out the images below, and see if you can spot the changes. [Click Images To Enlarge] "Wonder Woman" began its three day shoot in Hollywood that day, Navigate Hollywood reported. Hollywood Boulevard between Orange Drive and Highland Avenue were closed overnight and Eastbound lanes were closed at 4 P.M. Three hours later, Westbound lanes were closed

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/MarvelFreshman/news/?a=34134&t=Latest_iWonder_Womani_Set_Images_Reveal_Minor_Costume_Changes