On Playing Supergirl And A Possible Return To The Show: "First of all, I was lucky to even get the chance to audition for it. And then, to play Supergirl was one of the best experiences for me, in terms of a learning process. I was able to return two more times, and then one time this season, but we still didn't really get to wrap up the character, so I'm hoping we'll get a chance to. Right now, she's sort of flying around the Metropolis area. I'm wondering if she's going to come back." On How Fans Of Smallville And Sci-Fi Treat Her: "Yeah. I'm lucky. In the sci-fi world, the fans are pretty loyal. Coming from one alien to another, and playing two different aliens, the audience trickles into V. They'll watch the show. The sci-fi fans, in general, do support me, which I love them for. They're great fans. I go
