

Talking to Home Media Magazine to promote the release of X-Men: First Class on DVD and Blu-ray, producer Lauren Shuler Donner has revealed her interest in seeing classic characters such as Cyclops and Jean Grey in the sequel. Whether we'll actually see this come to pass is unclear, especially as director Matthew Vaughn said he only plans to introduce just one new mutant in the next movie. Donner, who also produced the first three "X-Men" films, when asked if beloved "X-Men" characters such as Cyclops and Jean Grey would appear in the next "First Class" film, would only say, "Maybe. Let's just say, I hope so." And in a separate interview with I Am Rogue, the producer discussed the cameos from Hugh Jackman and Rebecca Romjin in X-Men: First Class, as well as whether or not there's any doubt about bring Ryan Reynolds back as Deadpool after the critical and commercial disappointment

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=46025&t=Lauren_Shuler_Donner_Hopes_To_See_Cyclops_And_Jean_Grey_In_iX-Men_First_Classi_Sequel