

We have heard quite a bit from Donner over the last few days as X-Men: First Class geared up for it's Blu-ray release. And speaking to Popcornbiz she doesn't reveal too much we haven't heard already but does elaborate on the status of both The Wolverine and Deadpool, claiming that she would not make a solo movie of "The Merc With The Mouth" without Ryan Reynolds. She also says that if we do ever see X-Men 4 it will be a long time away. "I'm focusing on 'The Wolverine' and possibly 'Deadpool.' That's enough for now. I don't think we want to over-saturate the market. I think if we had six 'X-Men' movies out there nobody would want to see them." "We're figuring out where we're going to shoot it and working on the budget and the script and all that sort of stuff – we're in good prep. Hugh and I wanted

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrants/news/?a=46359&t=Lauren Shuler-Donner Says iX-Men 4i Is A Long Time Away Updates On iThe Wolverinei iDeadpooli