

The latest black and white Logan image comes from Hugh Jackman's Twitter account, and places us behind the wheel of a car, presumably from Wolverine's perspective. The pic is captioned "Sunseeker", and you'll notice the newspaper clipping of a boat on the sun visor. Sunseeker is a yacht manufacturer, but there might be a double meaning here - is Logan planning to retire and live out his days in a place with a warmer climate? Is he thinking about buying a boat? Whatever the significance of the photo, it could either be integral to the film's plot, or simply a throwaway tease to keep fans guessing. Hopefully we'll get something more substantial next week one way or the other. SUNSEEKER.
