

There's been no further information as of yet, but Fusible have spotted the registration of some mysterious new domain names by Lucasfilm earlier this month. According to the site, "Three domain names were registered on November 7th through Corporation Service Company, a brand protection service: StarWarsIdentities.com, StarWarsIdentities.com (typo) and sw-id.com." So, now the question is what exactly these are for? A video game? An animated series? A new live action movie? The long rumored live action TV series? Be sure to share your thoughts in the usual place.
