

The first season of Luke Cage wrapped up with the titular hero being sent back to prison, but the latest photos from the set of The Defenders make it clear that he'll be out in plenty of time for The Defenders! We all expected that of course, but in the latest snaps from the New York set, the hero can be seen visiting a burned out car covered in flowers and memorials with Simone Missick's Misty Knight. SPOILERS: LUKE CAGE - 10 Awesome Easter Eggs You May Have Missed Who are they mourning? That's not clear, but chances are that Misty is investigating the crime and that's led to her being reunited with Luke. Mike Colter is the second member of the team to have now been spotted shooting The Defenders, but there's been no sign of Daredevil and Iron Fist or any of the heroes together. Instead, those we have seen are spending time with their own supporting casts. This could be a

Read more: <https://www.comicbookmovie.com/tv/marvel/defenders/luke-cage-returns-to-meet-up-with-an-old-friend-in-latest-the-a146857>