

You may have already seen a few snippets of dialog from this rumored scene description from the Man Of Steel shoot at Edward's Airforce Base in California, but here is the full thing. It originated at Nukethefridge, but now Latino Review have added a few extra details that make it sound a bit more plausible. Apparently someone from Nukethefridge was on set to witness this scene up close and personal.. "The scene is set up in the bases' proving grounds, vast dried flat lands as we spy a barricade of some sort. Concrete military dividers form a crude wall as soldiers and Tanks gather with all weapons prone in one direction: the other side of the wall. Who's on the other side, none other then Superman and Faora: General Zods wife. She is indeed sporting a black alien uniform, her hair sleek back, draping down to a long black

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsraints/news/?a=54873&t=MAN_OF_STEEL_Is_This_Detailed_Scene_Description_On_The_Level