"In terms of the CIA-secret-agent thing, we're not really going down that road in particular/ Not in this movie." "There is a lot of stuff to explore and design, and that was part of the fun in creating this universe in a new and different way. There's a relationship with Oscorp that's deeper and more interesting. There's a lot to explore with Peter Parker as a character that I think is really fascinating. The trickster component and punk-rock instinct he has I'm really excited to get out there." "We had many discussions about how to create a universe that could sustain over a few films." "There are also those moments that are teased," added producer Matthew Tolmach. "But there are emotional questions to be
