

In the interview Marc Webb covers the following information about the movie: * His pitch to get the gig directing the movie * What he took from the comics especially in terms of Gwen Stacy * How he went about finding Andrew Garfield for Peter Parker * What the screenplay was like when he came onboard * Whether The Lizard was in that original screenplay * Tying Spider-Man and The Lizard's origins together * Why they left out a classic line from the Spider-Man comics * Casting Sally Fields who doesn't look old enough to play Aunt May * Bringing more realism into the Spider-Man mythos * Why Dr. Curt Connors doesn't have a prosthetic arm * How he wanted to do more practical stunts even though visual FX have improved since Sam Raimi's first movie * Visual references taken from the comics * Pushing Spider-Man's wisecracking * Whether he wants to direct another Spider-Man movie * He says he hasn't been

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/johnarturo/news/?a=61714>