

Speaking to Alex Billington of Firstshowing.net following the Spider-Man panel at WonderCon, director Marc Webb has shared some interesting info about Sony's reboot of the webcrawler. The filmmaker talks about the decision to have just one villain, The Lizard and also shares that there will be some hints to Norman Osborn aka The Green Goblin in the film. Also, Webb discusses whether he has the freedom to put his own personal stamp on the film or whether Sony's Board of Directors are secretly pulling the strings. Check out the video above and share your thoughts below. Running Time: Unknown Release Date: July 3, 2012 (USA) MPAA Rating: Unknown Starring: Andrew Garfield, Rhys Ifans, Emma Stone, Sally Field and Martin Sheen. Directed by: Marc Webb Written by: James Vanderbilt (initial screenplay), Alvin Sargent and Steve Kloves (revised draft) Click here to read a rundown of THE AMAZING SPIDER-MAN spoilers for 2011. The Amazing

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/GraphicCity/news/?a=56605>