

In a lengthy interview with Comic Book Resources, Scottish writer and creator Mark Millar has revealed a ton of new info about both his upcoming comic book work and the big screen adaptations planned for them. You can read everything he had to say in its entirety by clicking the link below. We also have our first look at the cover to Superior #6, which you'll find alongside a ton of new preview art over at the site. On The Current Status Of Superior And Supercrooks: "We've got 'Superior' coming back in October, and we're double-shipping in the same month to help get it back on track. Lenil [Francis Yu] had to go and do 'Death of Spider-Man' for six issues, but now he's back full-time on the book, and the first story finishes with a double-sized issue seven in November. Then, he's jumping straight on to 'Supercrooks,' which launches in January

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=43267&t=Mark Millar Reveals The Future Of Millarworld Comic Books And Movies