

Speaking to ASK MEN UK, comic book creator Mark Millar shared the following details:

QUESTION: What can we expect from Superior? MILLAR: It's kind of like Big meets Superman. It's a very simple idea about a little boy who's got Multiple Sclerosis, and he's given a magic wish. He's in a wheelchair most of the time, and he basically wants to become Superman, so instead of just being able to walk, he can fly and he's the strongest man on the planet. The big twist is that the person who gives him the magic wish is a demon and the kid will go back in the wheelchair unless he sells his soul. It's a children's story, in a way, but we're going to make it as a big family movie. It's quite dark in places, but it's a child's wish fulfilment film. QUESTION: It sounds a bit different to your usual 'bitten by a

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/GraphicCity/news/?a=56837>