

In his interview with Crave Online Mark Strong wanted to stress that he isn't seeking franchises. Actually he said he is quite nervous about attaching himself to a role that is destined to be a part of sequels. Even though he was reluctant, he did end up signing on for Green Lantern and John Carter. Why the change of heart? Mark thinks that times have changed. Where as an actor could avoid franchises twenty years ago, he says, "Now everything has a sequel. You have no choice." The following is an excerpt from the interview with Crave Online They already announced a 'Green Lantern' sequel. Are they inviting you back and giving you more to do? Have they announced it? Over the summer they said, "We're doing Green Lantern 2!" I think they'd like to. It didn't make the money that they wanted it to make. That's why it was a bizarre announcement. But I think what they've
