

Marvel Studios certainly aren't pussyfooting around with production on Iron Man 3 currently underway in South Florida, and filming for Thor: The Dark World showcasing London "in a major way." And now the studio has announced a familiar shooting location for their next "Phase 2" cinematic outing, following two the aforementioned films. After doubling for New York City and Stuttgart, Germany last year for the production on Marvel's The Avengers colossal box office hit, Cleveland, Ohio is where principal photography for Captain America: The Winter Soldier is scheduled to take place, according to Greater Cleveland Film Commission: "Marvel is pleased to return to Ohio, this time with our Captain America: The Winter Soldier production. The location, talent and people of Ohio are sure to benefit our film, and we look forward to beginning production," said Louis D'Esposito, Co-President, Marvel Studios. The Greater Cleveland Film Commission was in talks with Marvel Studios for

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/MarvelFreshman/news/?a=67951>