

IGN Movies have compiled some details from New York Comic Con which shed some new light on Marvel's plans for how their live action TV shows will link up with the movies as well as comments from Jeph Loeb and Kevin Feige on all that and more. Below are a few excerpts from their report, but be sure to click on the link below to read it in full. -Loeb stated that the recent trailer for The Avengers was basically our first glimpse of the TV Hulk. -Loeb says that Marvel will be pushing the technology to its limit. That apparently means that all the intensive CGI modeling and design work that is being done for the movie Hulk will be recycled for the TV version. -Loeb says the series is a different take on the Hulk, one that will focus more on the relationship between Betty Ross and Bruce at the

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=48307&t=Marvel I TV Shows May Be Set In Same Universe As Movies More Details On iHulki CGI An d Plot