

The first promo for Disney's XD's Marvel's Spider-Man animated series is set to screen with the season four finale of Ultimate Spider-Man this Saturday, but thanks to IGN we have our first look at it right here. It's not much (basically just some web-action and a glimpse of the logo), but we should see a lot more in the coming weeks. We still don't know a whole lot about this new show, but it is rumored to feature Spider-Gwen and Miles Morales, among others. Check out the teaser below, along with a clip from the 2-part Ultimate Spider-Man finale.
