

It has today been announced that the 11th annual Tribeca Film Festival will conclude with a special screening of Marvel's The Avengers at the Tribeca BMCC PAC on April 28th. For those of you who may not have heard about the event, it was co-founded by Robert De Niro and Jane Rosenthal following the tragic events of 9/11 and gives police officers, firefighters, medical workers and military members the chance to meet filmmakers and stars, as well as attend special screenings such as this one. "Showing at Tribeca is both an honor and a double homecoming for me, who grew up in Manhattan, and for the movie, which wrapped production there," director Joss Whedon said in a statement. He jokingly added, "I'm thoroughly psyched to be closing the festival with our intimate little think-piece." Kevin Feige had this to say. "We are proud that Marvel's The Avengers is the closing film of this

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JoshWildingNewsAndReviews/news/?a=57073>