

While discussing her new movie, Friends With Kids during the Toronto International Film Festival [TIFF], Megan Fox opened up just a a little, to Moviefone about her side of the Transformers controversy. Image courtesy of Collider. With the recent Shia Labeouf interview and the 'Transformers' situation, why didn't you clarify or defend yourself? I didn't want to talk about it while they're on the press tour because I didn't want to try to throw mud at them. I didn't want that movie to suffer. Especially because I love Shia. I wanted that movie to do well for him. I didn't want to have this big media war over something that really was so silly and it would have just been my ego needing to engage in a war, at that point. Of course, there will be a time when I want to tell my side of the story. I just don't feel it was

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/GraphicCity/news/?a=46273&t=emMegan_Foxem_Comments_On_emTransformers_Dark_of_the_Moonem_Controversy