

As the winter sets in, you may find yourself in need of some extra layers to keep the cold at bay, and if you want to combine that with a love for all things Star Wars (and what self respecting geek wouldn't?), USA Jackets have got you covered... no pun intended. Diego Luna's character in Rogue One: A Star Wars Story sports a couple of different coats at various points in the movie, and USA Jackets have awesome replicas of both of 'em available. There's the Han-Solo inspired blue parka, and the lighter brown jacket for when the weather gets a little warmer. If neither of these float your boat, you can check out their full range of Star Wars jackets here. Free US shipping on all items.
