

A few days ago Hugo Weaving had to say this about the TF movies he did: "That's a weird job for me because it honestly was a two-hour voice job, initially. I was doing a play and I actually didn't have time, anyway. It was one of the only things I've ever done where I had no knowledge of it, I didn't care about it, I didn't think about it. They wanted me to do it. In one way, I regret that bit. I don't regret doing it, but I very rarely do something if it's meaningless. It was meaningless to me, honestly. I don't mean that in any nasty way. I did it. It was a two-hour voice job, while I was doing other things." Today Michael Bay responded. Of course names are not mentioned but you can make the conclusions yourself: "Do you ever get sick of actors that make $15 million
