

A super strong, nigh indestructible powerhouse vs a blind ninja with uncanny senses - who would win? According to Luke Cage actor Mike Colter, it's not really no contest. During the Q&A portion of his panel at Stan Lee's Los Angeles Comic-Con, Colter stated that the likes of Daredevil or the Punisher don't really pose threat to Luke, especially if they're unarmed. &quot;Well, it's not fair to spar with any of those guys because it would not be a fair fight. I mean, let's be honest. You want me be the punching bag so that they can get their aggression out on me? And I just stand there and take it until one of them hurts their hand? Sure. I can be a punching bag.&quot; Colter is currently in NYC filming Marvel's The Defenders. In the meantime, what do you think of the chances of Cage receiving a second season? While Daredevil and Jessica Jones were renewed rather quickly, quite a bit of time

Read more: <https://www.comicbookmovie.com/daredevil/mike-colter-says-luke-cage-vs-daredevil-is-not-a-fair-fight-a146410>