

These days, the majority of movie posters seem to be lazily put together photoshopped disappointments. Thankfully, this doesn't always reflect the quality of the film they're promoting (see: X-Men: First Class) but be grateful all the same for the likes of Mondo, an art house which collects the far more original and unique takes on posters for movies such as, in this case, Cowboys & Aliens. Here it is courtesy of our friends over at MTV Splash Page. Created by artist Florian Bertmer, the print will go sale this Tuesday for only $45 at mondotees.com. Cowboys & Aliens will be available to buy on DVD and Blu-ray on the same day.

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JoshWildingNewsAndReviews/news/?a=50657&t=Mondo_Reveal_Stunning_COWBOYS_ALIENS_Poster_To_Celebrate_Blu-Ray_Release