

Passing the $800 million mark at the worldwide box office, as of yesterday, Joss Whedon's Marvel's The Avengers epic assembly continues to make history recently setting a new record for the biggest domestic opening weekend. And proudly showcasing their early contributions to the summer blockbuster, concept artists Raj Rihal, Steve Jung, and Christopher S. Ross have released more fantastic conceptual illustrations for The Avengers. While Rihal's and Jung's work involve the Stark Tower, the S.H.I.E.L.D Helicarrier and key fight sequences, Ross' work features digital concepts of devices used in the movie. Check them out pictured below! (Steve Jung) (A set not used in the movie. An opera scene of the Thor legend.)
