

If you don't fancy watching the vid, Dushku basically goes into detail about this version of Catwoman. Her relationship with the other characters around her and what makes her tick. She also talks about her own experiences growing up as a comic book fan. Romano says she has been looking to work with Dushku for years, and thought this role was perfect for her. She also speaks about the problems casting a minor to voice young prostitute Holly Robinson. She then goes into the numerous time she has cast Batman in various animated projects. Much more too, ah just watch it! Batman: Year One is directed by Sam Liu (The Batman, Thor: Tales of Asgard) and Lauren Montgomery (Superman/Batman Apocalypse, Green Lantern: Emerald Knights), and features the voice talents of Benjamin McKenzie (Bruce Wayne / Batman), Bryan Cranston (Jim Gordon), Eliza Dushku (Selina Kyle / Catwoman) and Katee Sackhoff (Sarah Essen). The movie

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrrants/news/?a=45695&t=More_From_Eliza_Dushku_Andrea_Romano_On_iBatman_Year_One