

The folks from MTV Splash Page have posted yet another short segment from their interview with 'Curt Connors-Lizard' actor Rhys Ifans, discussing The Amazing Spider-Man. Now elaborating on why he likes 'Spider-Man' as a character, over other comic book heroes, more on 'The Lizard,' and his relationship with Emma Stone's 'Gwen Stacy,' watch below! Get More: Movie Trailers, Movies Blog "The majority of comic book villains are pure evil, but Curt Connors is an exception," he explained. "Curt Connors is a good man who initially wants to save the world but he gets hungry and greedy and reckless and he pays the price for that." "I just love the whole Spider-Man thing because Superman is so kind of godlike, he comes from another planet, Batman is this inaccessible, unapproachable millionaire, and Peter Parker is this schoolboy who's bullied and I think that's the kind of enduring appeal to that story," he said. "We can

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/MarvelFreshman/news/?a=49165&t=More_From_Rhys_Ifans_On_The_Lizard_In_iThe_Amazing_Spider-ManI_And_Gwen_Stacy