

Following Jerad S. Marantz' reveal of his artwork on Matthew Vaughn's X-Men: First Class prequel, enduring the trend, the latest conceptual art comes courtesy of artist Hao Wu & Howard Swindell. Depicting of initial designs for Angel, Beast, Emma Frost & Havok, and their mutant abilities, check out Hao Wu's work below, with Swindell's work lower.! "Hi guys, here are some of my contributions to the movie Xmen- First Class, says Hao Wu. "It ranges from blue sky phase concept designs to production art work which focus more on figuring out the Xs and Os. Congratulations to our awesome team and friends, months of hard work has finally made it to the big screen. Hope this new feature will bring a breath of fresh air to the Xmen family. this property is copyrighted to Fox, Rhythm and Hues Studios and its respective clients. [Click Images To Enlarge]
