

Regardless on which side of the issue you come down on, SOPA and PIPA is something any user of the internet needs to read up on and see how it could affect sites you love such as CBM. In an open letter to Washington, heavy hitters from Neil Gaiman and Trent Reznor, Adam Savage of Mythbusters, and even Andy Samberg and The Lonely Island have penned the following: An open letter to Washington from Artists and Creators We, the undersigned, are musicians, actors, directors, authors, and producers. We make our livelihoods with the artistic works we create. We are also Internet users. We are writing to express our serious concerns regarding the PROTECT IP Act (PIPA) and the Stop Online Piracy Act (SOPA). As creative professionals, we experience copyright infringement on a very personal level. Commercial piracy is deeply unfair and pervasive leaks of unreleased films and music regularly interfere with the integrity of our

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/Thorverine/news/?a=53046&t=Neil_Gaiman_Trent_Reznor_Adam_Savage_And_Other_Celebrities_Pen_Open_Letter_On_SOPA