

The first clip from tomorrow's midseason premiere of Marvel's Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D., "Broken Promises", saw Radcliffe attempt to power-down Aida, and this latest sneak peek reveals what exactly he and Fitz were there to do to the paranoid android. On Mace's orders, the pair agree to wipe Aida's memory banks in order to erase whatever information she gleaned from the Darkhold - something LMD May doesn't seem best pleased about, and most likely warns her creator. In addition, EP Jed Whedon revealed the following during the ongoing Television Critics Association Winter Press Tour: "This year there's three [story arcs]. It's based on our schedule of how we're airing. We like to run continuous, if that [is] possible, so this next [LMD] chunk will be a section and then we'll be off for a while and there'll be a third part." What do you guys think this final season 4 arc of Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D. will revolve around? Could we see the return of Ghost
