

This weekend on PowerBlock, we go behind the scenes of G.I. Joe: Retaliation slated to hit movie theaters in Spring 2013. Our sponsor Royal Purple has a role in this sequel to "G.I. Joe: Rise of Cobra," and Courtney gives you an advanced look at some of the vehicles including a 17' combat dune buggy armed with a 50 caliber machine gun and a radically transformed 796 Ducati attack bike. The buggy weighs nearly 6000 pounds and has 450 horsepower. You'll meet the builder and Picture Car Coordinator, Bill Barillaro, responsible for the buggy and 22-ton, 16' tall Hiss Tank. Bill started his career in the movie "Speed" as a bus mechanic. Courtney also welcomes the man who arms all the vehicles and the actors, Kevin McCullough. Check it out on PowerBlock June 23 & 24.
