

This months issue of French magazine L'Ecran Fantastique features Captain America: The First Avenger on the cover and inside gives us a new image of a HYRDA soldier as well as some new information about the film that confirms some fan speculation in regards to the recent NY Times Square filming. [Click The Image To Enlarge] This excerpt has been translated from French so it may be a little rough in some parts. [Possible Spoilers Ahead] The film is set at 95% during the Second World War, but it starts today, for extracting a block of ice containing a mysterious figure, block located in the wreckage of a giant bomber. The film also ends in our time. - The Shield: It is manufactured by Howard Stark, and the white parts are vibranium an indestructible alloy created by Stark Industries [vibranium it is therefore artificial, different from natural vibranium Wakanda, home of the Black Panther] .

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/Dustin03Comics/news/?a=37008&t=New_Captain_America_TFAI_Plot_Info_Ant-Man_The_Wasp_In_The_Avengers