

Betrayed by his own kind and left for dead on a desolate planet, Riddick (Diesel) fights for survival against alien predators and becomes more powerful and dangerous than ever before. Soon bounty hunters from throughout the galaxy descend on Riddick only to find themselves pawns in his greater scheme for revenge. With his enemies right where he wants them, Riddick unleashes a vicious attack of vengeance before returning to his home planet of Fura to save it from destruction. The production of the film ran into some financial problems recently, but everything seems to be resolved now, so everything is back on track. There is still no release date.

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/Wolvie09/news/?a=51211&t=New_Concept_Art_For_RIDDICK_Reveals_Detailed_Look_At_The_Creature_Called_Jackal