

Hey Folks! We are slowly getting more and more information on Nolan's final Batman film! Check out what an unknown person sent to HollywoodChicago! Submitted to HollywoodChicago.com Morning, Adam! I just got back from St. John Street this morning. Different activity now. They are getting ready to shoot scenes. The typical long, black SUVs that Nolan has are now there. I counted two outside and one inside down the side entrance. These are the same SUVs that we saw filming "The Dark Knight". They have also put black tarpaulin over the front of the building to stop light getting in that would ruin a shot. They have HUGE cameras and fans down the side entrance. There about 20 film crew on site. The name on the side of the trucks is Panalux. I also spoke to security. They hinted that this will be the inside of a police station. They said the set inside looks amazing. Security said

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/CoastToCoastStation/news/?a=37175&t=New_Dark_Knight_Rises_Shoot_Details