

USA Today has revealed the following Diamond Select action figure featuring the redesigned suit Andrew Garfield will sport in 2012's The Amazing Spider-Man. The coloring is a little different to what we've seen before, but whether or not this reflects what the final product will look like on the big screen is unclear. Thanks to our very own DCMarvelFreshman for the heads up. At its booth at the Javits Convention Center, the company will have on display the Marvel Select Spider-Man action figure based on Andrew Garfield's movie version of the iconic character. He stands around 7 inches tall, has a very bendy 16 points of articulation and will be available at specialty stores and comic shops in the spring. (The film, directed by Marc Webb, arrives in theaters July 3.) STARRING: Andrew Garfield as Peter Parker/Spider-Man Emma Stone as Gwen Stacy Rhys Ifans as Curt Connors/The Lizard Martin Sheen as Uncle Ben Sally Fields as Aunt
