

As is always the case when a big release approaches, we need to be prepared for an onslaught of Rogue One: A Star Wars Story content over the next few weeks. This latest TV spot doesn't give too much away, however, and only features a few new snippets of footage. Plus, the guys over at StarWarsNews.net have taken note of the movie's official rating: PG-13 (obviously) for "extended sequences of sci-fi violence and action." Most likely nothing too extreme of course, but we can probably expect Rogue One to be quite a bit more intense than The Force Awakens anyway. Rogue One: A Star Wars Story is directed by Gareth Edwards and stars Felicity Jones, Diego Luna, Ben Mendelsohn, Donnie Yen, Mads Mikkelsen, Alan Tudyk, Riz Ahmed, with Jiang Wen and Forest Whitaker. Kathleen Kennedy, Allison Shearmur and Simon Emanuel are producing, with John Knoll and Jason McGatlin serving as executive producers. The movie opens in U.S. theaters on December 16, 2016.
