

We've seen the costume and the Funko POP, but we've yet to get a glimpse of Kurt Russell's live-action take on Ego the Living Planet as he'll appear in James Gunn's Guardians of the Galaxy Vol. 2. Though that reveal is probably not too far off, in the meantime Entertainment Earth has debuted a first look the Ego action figure alongside his estranged son, Peter Quill (Chris Pratt). The figure was unveiled at Toy Fair New York late last night, and is the best representation of the character we've seen up to this point. Whether Ego will actually take on his "Living Planet" guise in the film remains to be seen, but I'd say it's a safe bet. Can't wait to see that action figure. Set to the backdrop of 'Awesome Mixtape #2,' Marvel's Guardians of the Galaxy Vol. 2 continues the team's adventures as they traverse the outer reaches of the cosmos. The Guardians must fight to keep their newfound family together
