

Steve Kloves reveals a few pretty cool things about Sony and Marc Webb;s upcoming Spider-Man reboot. You can see the whole video interview by clicking the link back to Collider, but here are the abbreviated highlights.. Kloves says the tone will be more realistic and this movie will be more grounded in reality than Raimi's trilogy. ..I said, 'I can't do 'shazam!' dialogue, that's not what I do. If you wanna do the Peter Parker I knew as a kid reading the comic book, I can do that, because it was grounded in exactly what you said, reality.' So they said 'Yes that's what we want, we want you to come in and write Peter Parker as a real character.' I wrote this very, very naturalistically. A lot of humor, but naturalistic humor, not jokes. But really trying to make them seem like real characters. I think Peter Parker's a great character,
