

While we wait patiently for the first official images (and hopefully a trailer) for Logan, director James Mangold has taken to Twitter today to share a couple of very cool storyboards giving us a hint as to what we should expect in terms of action. As you can see, it appears as if Wolverine is going to dive out in front of a moving car in order to jam his claws through the windscreen at the unsuspecting driver. 10 Amazing Facts You Probably Didn't Know About WOLVERINE Who's behind the wheel? I would place money on it being Boyd Holbrook's Donald Pierce, but who knows! The movie's Instagram account isn't particularly helpful either because the latest image they've shared is just a truck sitting outside a rest stop. Exciting! What do you guys think about this latest look at Logan? As always, be sure to share your thoughts and theories in the comments section below.
